

Mark Herterich

Chief Marketing Officer, Extrada Ltd, Berlin

Mark Herterich has served on the board of Homeportal Inc. since February 2002, with specific responsibility for marketing and business development. Homeportal is one of the leading suppliers of software for ehome service providers.

Mr. Herterich has accumulated substantial professional experience in the area of telecommunications and smart home industries.

He worked as a Senior Consultant for Eutelis Consult GmbH, a specialized telecoms consulting company.

Prior to this position, he was a senior project manager at Deutsche Telekom AG, where he assumed responsibility for a variety of projects, including Smart Home value-added services as well as Global Office, one of the first unified messaging services.

Mark Herterich studied Philosophy at Yale University in the US and Computer Sciences at the Technical University of Berlin, Germany.