

Wolfgang Tunze

Journalist, Competence Team Public Relations, gfu

Wolfgang Tunze works as a freelance journalist and lives in Stuttgart. Upon graduation from high school in 1969, he entered university to pursue German studies, communication sciences and political sciences.

Between 1976 and 1988 he worked on the editorial staff for several publications. His last position was deputy chief editor for the “HiFiVision” magazine.

Since starting to work as a freelance journalist in 1989, Mr. Tunze writes a weekly article for the Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung and contributes to weekly and daily publications as well as online-services. He mainly writes about audio/video-, broadcasting-, internet-, computer- and media related topics.

Wolfgang Tunze has worked as advisor for the Messe Berlin on a regular basis since 1994, where he advises the technical-scientific panel of the IFA, the international consumer electronics fair.

He joined the team of the gfu’s (Association for Consumer- and Communications Electronics) public relations department in May 2003.